Senator Declares U.S. Experts Must Direct Europe Aid Program

By ROBERT WECHSLER
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Nov. 4.—Sen. C. Wayland Brooks (R) of Illinois declared today that American supervision and "know how" must accompany American aid to Europe to prevent it from becoming another "operation rat-hole."

His reference to "operation rat-hole" reflected the desire of the touring senate appropriations committee to avoid waste of money and any fruitless attempt to reconstruct Europe's economy.

U. S. Should Supervise

Brooks told a news conference that if stop-gap aid or the Marshall plan is approved by congress "top rank American experts" should be sent to Europe to supervise the aid program. He said the committee would not support any aid program unless it was supervised by American experts.

At noon today the vote in New Castle and the county precincts was light.

The apparent lack of interest shown in the campaign of the past four weeks was evidently reflected in the turnout of voters.

The percentage may increase in the afternoon and early evening hours but at noon the vote was unusually light.

Not even the usual crew of election workers was seen at some of the polls. At some there were a few workers handing out cards and presenting arguments for the party or candidates but even this was less than usual.

Judges W. Walter Braham and John G. Lamoree were on duty in the court house and from seven a. m. until 10 p. m. one or the other was available to settle election disputes.

The polls close at eight o'clock tonight after which the completed count will be returned to the board of elections in the Court House.

Voters Of State Going To Polls

Result May Give Some Indication Of Possible 1948 Trend

ONE STATE-WIDE CONTEST ON BALLOT

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—(INS)—State and national policies were expected to be right in voters' minds today when participating in the first general election since the adjournment of Congress and the state legislature.

Voting booths throughout Pennsylvania opened at 7 a. m. and will close at 8 p. m.

Political chieftains looking for some hint in the results of possible trends next year when a President will be chosen were aware that the records of a Republican-controlled Congress and General Assembly still were fresh in voters' minds.

Set Stage For 1948

Before leaving to vote in his home town of Carnegie, Gov. James H. Duff said the outcome probably would set the stage for 1948.

Only statewide office at stake was a $21,000-a-year post on the state legislature.

Their romance began last January when Mrs. Thompson moved to a house where George lived with his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Ballard. At the time Mrs. Thompson, who is Mrs. Ballard's niece, was awaiting a divorce. The divorce which ended her 14-year marriage was granted June 9.

Former U.S. Envoy To Great Britain Commits Suicide

John G. Winant Shoots Self To Death At Home In Concord, N. H.

BLAME MENTAL FATIGUE FOR ACT (BULLETIN)

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 4.—(INS)—Mrs. Constance Rivington Winant collapsed today when she learned her husband, John G. Winant, had committed suicide.

Mrs. Winant, wife of the former three-time governor of New Hampshire and ex-ambassador to Britain, learned on arrival at Concord airport on a chartered plane from New York that her husband had shot himself through the temple last evening while alone in a second floor bedroom of their mansion.

Word that he had died in an accident had been telephoned to her in New York.

Blame Despondency

Despondency due to extreme mental fatigue and nervous tension was blamed today for the suicide of Winant, only three-time governor of the Granite State.

The 56-year-old Liberal Republican, who was reported in excellent spirits until last Saturday, shot and killed himself in his second floor bedroom of the palatial Winant home with a 32 calibre Browning automatic pistol last night.

The bullet entered the right temple, drilled through the head and struck a wall in the bedroom.

Police said Winant left no note. County Solicitor Raymond K. Perkins said the body was found at 10:30 p. m. (Continued on Page Two)

Palestine Compromise May Be U.N. Program

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 4.—The United Nations Security Council seems slated today to play a decisive future role in the fate of Palestine.

An early indication among the delegations at Lake Success is that somewhere between the U. S. plan and that of the Soviet Union as placed before the U. N. Palestine group there is promising ground for common agreement.

Foresee Compromise

In the consensus of delegates, the General Assembly will be presented with a compromise blueprint on the Holy Land giving the British an opportunity to lay down the mandate within a year's time while the Security Council will play "watch-dog" through its own representatives in the transition period.

A majority of delegates still are awaiting instructions from their governments on the Palestine schemes presented by the United States and Russia. But forecasts are that only the Arabs in the long run will fight bitterly against the General Assembly's approval of partition and its implementation.

U. S. delegation spokesman at Lake Success today continue to emphasize that there is "no wide margin of difference" between the basic provision of the American and the Russian scheme for Palestine. The hint is that the "door has been opened" to a compromise.

The "quakes struck Saturday and Monday. More than 40 of the dead were counted in the village of Satipo alone.

The earthquake was believed to be one of the most serious ever to strike South America. The relatively small casualties were attributed to the sparse population in the affected areas.

Reduction In All Income Tax Rates Is Urged

Special Tax Study Committee Makes Recommendation To Congress

RATE ADJUSTMENT NO. 1 TAX PROBLEM

By SAM FOGG
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(INS)—A special tax study committee recommended to Congress today a "reduction in individual income tax rates for all" in a proposed long-term revision of the tax structure.

At the same time, the Treasury Department advised the House Ways and Means Committee against recommending legislation designed to tax farmer cooperatives until it has had an opportunity to review the entire tax system.

No. 1 Tax Problem

In its report to the Ways and Means Committee, the special group headed by Dr. Roswell Magill called equitable adjustment of rates the "No. 1 federal tax problem today."

Magill's committee suggested that reduction in individual income tax rates be made "with due regard for the cost of living of those in lower income groups and for the needs of the balance of the economy."

A dissenting minority opinion, written by Matthew Woll, American Federation of Labor representative, accompanied the majority report.

Rep. Knutson (R) Minn., Ways and Means chairman, commented in accepting the report that he hoped the committee would be able to conclude its hearing on long-range tax revision and secure passage in the House of a tax relief measure not later than March 15.

Changes Needed

Knutson said the administrative changes urged in the Magill committee majority report were "long overdue, because there have been no major changes since 1942 and the need for amendment has become very evident."

Rep. Doughton (D) N. C., rank (Continued on Page Two)

Knutson Seeks Support For Tax Reduction

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Rep. Knutson (R) Minn., made a bid today to enlist Democratic House support in his renewed battle to pass an income tax reduction bill over President Truman's anticipated opposition.

The House ways and means committee chairman announced he will confer with Rep. Doughton (D) N. C., ranking minority member of the tax-writing committee, "in an effort to win him over" to Knutson's third bill to cut personal income taxes from 10 to 20 percent for the final six months of the current fiscal year.

Doughton arrives in Washington today to join the committee when it receives a long-range tax report from its special MacGill committee and to open a series of hearings on tax exemptions for farm co-operatives.

Prevent Soldier From Leaping To Death From Tower

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—(INS)—An Army sergeant, who tried to leap from the 86th floor observation tower of the Empire State building after telling fellow soldiers of his intention, is held today for observation at Bellevue hospital.

The man, a veteran of the Pacific campaign, was identified as Vito Strazdas, 24, attached to the photography unit of an Army Signal Corps, at Astoria, Queens.

An Army official notified the building management last night that Sgt. Strazdas had spoken of jumping from the tower, and guards watched all uniformed men who visited the tower.

Sgt. Strazdas appeared at the building at about 10 p. m., and was followed to the tower by Alfred Bishara, tower manager, and two guards.

The soldier got one leg over the parapet before he was grabbed. He put up such a struggle that a visitor went to the assistance of the guards. Strazdas was tied up until the arrival of police.

He has been in the Army for four and one-half years, and served in New Guinea.

National Leaders Watch Result Of Nation's Elections

Balloting Today May Give Indication Of National Trend In 1948

SEVERAL STATES GET ATTENTION

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—National leaders of both major parties are watching the off-year balloting today for signs of a possible trend in the 1948 presidential elections.

The Democrats appear headed for good news in Kentucky, where a last minute survey indicates they will begin the governorship and state offices lost four years ago in a Republican upset.

The Republicans, meanwhile, expect to win mayoralty campaigns in Philadelphia, Indianapolis and San Francisco, where the Democrats are bidding for power after long GOP rule.

One Senate Seat

One U. S. Senator and three members of the House of Representatives will be elected today but without either party making any gain.

The Senate seat is in Mississippi, made vacant by the death of Theodore "The Man" Bilbo. Rep. John Rankin is reported being outdistanced by both Rep. William M. Colmer and Circuit Judge John C. Stennis. In any event a Democrat will replace Bilbo.

The House races are in the tenth Indiana, the fourth Ohio and the fourteenth New York districts. The first two are believed safely Republican and the third overwhelmingly Democratic, just as they were in the last election.

In Kentucky, the survey shows the Democrats should win by something around 30,000 plurality. The Republicans are certain to carry the ninth Kentucky district and possibly the third but the other seven districts will go Democratic. The first and second districts alone should give the Democrats a 30,000 majority, enough to offset the Republican margin in the ninth.

Back In Power

The Kentucky outcome will mean merely that the Democrats are back in power in that border state. Their candidate, Rep. Earle S. Clements, had the support of organized labor because of his opposition to the Taft-Hartley bill. But Clements said nothing about the law in his campaign, even (Continued on Page Two)

This is the day when the people speak, the day when they made their choice, the day when the voter gets out to the polls and in government raises his voice. Just who will be named, and who will be licked, it's something I cannot say, but the weather is dull for elections I think it's just fifty five today. And the polls are all open the voters are out, and the candidates wait for the score, it's election, my friend, so get out there and vote, it's a chance for the voters to roar.

Ward Chairmen Will Take Chest Gifts Overlooked

Persons Omitted In Drive
Asked To Telephone
Their Ward Leader

Persons overlooked in the current Community Chest drive can make contributions to the effort by calling the chairman of their ward. A worker will then call at the home.

Many calls have been received at the campaign headquarters, made by citizens who claim they have not been approached for a donation. In a great many instances this was due to the fact that the resident was not at home when the worker called. Chairman George F. Winter, Jr., stated today that in spite of the diligent efforts of the workers it is impossible to reach every home.

Asked To Call Chairmen

Following is the list of ward leaders and their telephone numbers: First ward—Mrs. Eliah Kaplan, 1437; Second ward—Mrs. L. B. Calvin, 1620-R; Third ward—Mrs. Howard Kley, 6029-M; Fourth ward—Mrs. George Sherman, 3049-J; Fifth ward—Mrs. Miffin Miller, 1489-M; Sixth ward—Mrs. Walter T. Reneker, 4133; Seventh ward—Mrs. G. G. Horchler, 6585-W; Eighth ward—Miss Marie Kutkiewicz, 4089.

Next Report Friday

Chairman Winter said today that the next report meeting will be held Friday at noon in The Castle-ton hotel.

A substantial boost in the total is expected by that time, he added.

VOTERS OF STATE GOING TO POLLS

hundreds of local contests were expected to spark sufficient interest to attract upward of 60 per cent of the registered vote.

Better-than-average turnouts were anticipated in 54 communities holding referendum on Sunday sports and motion pictures.

Opposing Fine for a 10-year term was Judge Ivan J. McKenrick, 62, of Ebensburg, a Democratic member of the Cambria county common pleas court for 17 years. McKenrick polled 456,700 votes in 1944 balloting and Fine 973,204. Both candidates were unopposed in the primary.

SENATOR DECLARES U. S. EXPERTS MUST DIRECT PROGRAM

selected to keep an eye on and supervise the European reconstruction effort.

He said the experts should be "men who won the war and who have enough back and authority" to help the aid program along.

Brooks said:
"Seven percent of the people of the world cannot continue to pour out their resources without assurance by direct participation, that their money will be well invested."

Sen. Styles Bridges, another member of the committee, proposed that a "bi-partisan follow up to bi-partisan American aid" by representatives of the American government, American business, representatives of recipient nations and "top level" technical aspects.

Estimate Billion Needed

The New Hampshire Republican said the committee has estimated that the United States will need "plus the assumed 'economic support' of the British zone in Germany" will total a billion dollars up to next June.

President Truman has called for 642 million dollars in aid to France and Italy.

Bridges stressed that there should be two main conditions attached to aid to Europe.

First, self-help, and second, "any aid given should support the goal of rapid attainment of self-sufficiency."

He emphasized also the necessity for putting Europe's "house in order."

Cites Wasteful Delay

In this connection he cited unbalanced budgets, unstable monies, "too frequent overloading of personnel, and the network of inefficiency, dishonest, lower-level bureaucrats."

Bridges said 75 million dollars of UNRRA machinery and farm equipment in Greece are still undistributed and "are uncared and rusting" while Greek farms are "sterile."

He declared the committee held the belief that "some officials are helping to keep the goods off the markets to maintain high prices and cash in personally."

though his Republican opponent, Attorney General Eldon S. Dummit, tried to make it a major issue.

There was widespread issue in today's election in New York and Ohio because soldier bonus questions are on the ballot in those states. In Ohio, there also was a vote on spending gasoline tax funds.

The congressional race in the fourth Ohio district pits Republican William M. McCulloch, former speaker of the State Legislature, against Joseph B. Quatman, Democrat, a Lima lawyer. McCulloch has made an issue of the Taft-Hartley law.

Ralph Harvey, a farmer, is the Republican congressional candidate in the tenth Indiana district, a traditionally Republican area. Frank Hanley, the Democratic nominee, is a Muncie automobile dealer backed by the CIO.

The triangular battle in the 14th New York district (Brooklyn) is expected to be won by Abraham J. Multer, a Democrat who has liberal party support. His GOP opponent is Jacob P. Lefkowitz and the third entrant is American-Laborite Victor Rabinowitz.

A GOP spokesman in Washington said the Republican high command is confident that the 1946 trend is continuing. He added:

"If there is any shift at all it will reflect further Republican gains."

No official forecast was made at Democratic national headquarters.

kins said after an investigation that Concord's first citizen had been in ill health and was suffering from fatigue and a high-strung nervous condition apparently had been aggravated by a strenuous writing schedule.

Winant had just completed writing the memoirs of his wartime service in Britain.

Body Found On Floor

His body, clad in a lounging robe, was found on the floor near one of the twin beds in the bedroom.

A second gun—a Luger automatic—was found between the beds.

Police believe Winant had attempted to use it but discarded it because it was not loaded.

No members of Winant's family were in the house on Pleasant Street when the sound of the shot and the thud of his body at 7:45 p. m. sent two women employees scurrying up to his room.

His widow left New York for Concord by plane as soon as she received news of Winant's death. The three Winant children also were notified.

Constance Winant is in Peru.

IMPORTANT

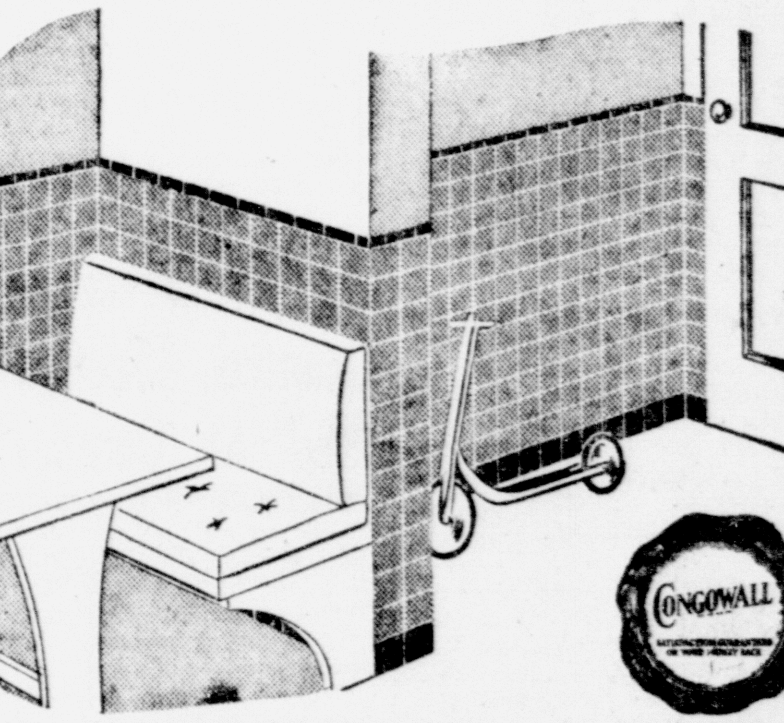

As soon as one becomes a responsible age, and is financially able, he, in most cases, makes provision for a home and family, but one of the things that so many neglect, is the purchase of a Cemetery lot, in order that he may save a lot of worry for his loved ones, should anything happen he or his family.

In so doing, this is a very important matter, and should be gone into carefully, and not without some very careful study and information. He should be very sure of just what he is getting, and just what control he will have over what he buys. He should buy where he will have at least something to say in regard to the spot where his loved ones are to be buried, not where he will be fined, when he wants to buy protection for those loved ones.

When you employ a Funeral Director today, with his funeral services, he furnishes graveside equipment, and this same equipment, which is used to lower the casket, is also used to lower a vault, at no extra charge. In fact, this has been the custom in this community for a long time.

The head of every family should own a lot in a well kept, responsible cemetery, but should know the rules of that cemetery before purchasing same.

In the presence of relatives and close friends, Miss Violet Harbison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Harbison, of New Galilee, at her home on Saturday afternoon, November 1, at 4:30 o'clock, became the bride of Arthur M. Calvin, of 427 East Winter avenue, son of Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Calvin, of Chapin road.

Vases of flowers, ferns and lighted candles banded the fire place to form an improvised altar before which the bride and groom exchanged vows with Rev. A. J. Calvin, father of the groom, officiating at the double ring ceremony. He was assisted by Rev. W. W. Willis.

The bride wore an ice blue and metallic street-length dress with corsage of pink roses and white baby mums. A rhinestone necklace, gift of the groom, was her only jewelry.

In View Of The News

By J. C. Oestreicher, INS Foreign Director

In the midst of London's austerity—shortages on all sides, lack of hard currency and rations to the diminishing point—there obviously remains today among the British people a restless impatience for the wedding of Princess Elizabeth to Lieut. Philip Mountbatten.

And this is not based only on anticipation of seeing the married couple drive together through the streets.

It is based as well upon the unremovable British tradition of respect and admiration for the cherished heritage of the crown jewels.

Unusual Precautions
Thereon hangs a story that may account in some measure at least for the unusual security precautions that have been taken by Scotland Yard in the last few weeks and will multiply in the days and months before the two are joined together in the chill and misty atmosphere of the crown jewels, and almost succeeded.

It's an old story, to be sure, and goes far back into the centuries. But it does demonstrate why since that December day in the year 1670, the Tower of London has been guarded hour in and hour out by yeomen whose jobs have an almost hereditary status.

Culprit Invaded Tower
The culprit who invaded the tower by devious and subtle means and got as far as a bridge over the moat before he was discovered bore the sinister but none the less verified name of Captain Blood.

His role in history was acted out in the Seventeenth Century struggles of the British Isles, when Irish, Scots, Cromwellians and Servitors of Charles II were at each other's throats.

He is credited formally with a "wild west" attempt to assassinate the first Duke of Osborne, then Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and with countless holdups and killings which always were intertwined with the fate of England's dynasty.

His "invasion" of the tower and his seizure of the crowns and jewels brought Captain Blood before Charles himself as judge and jury.

Somewhat, he was able to convince the king that he had staged the fantastic theft merely as a ruse to show Charles the extent of conspiracies within the monarch's midst. Charles pardoned him; even sought his favor and made him a great personage.

But it will come back to many minds when Elizabeth and her consort stand before the altar toward the end of this month.

Americans, Britons Must Fight Dividers

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Seven years ago, this city's fate hung in the balance. Only seven years ago, and we have forgotten so quickly! We have forgotten how it stood as a symbol and a bastion of all the values that had raised man from the slime through the centuries.

It is the fashion today to write Britain off. You can add up the economic forces making for disintegration and come out with an answer that spells doom.

Some Americans seem to take a primitive kind of satisfaction in the threat that hangs over Britain's very existence. They want to see her humiliated and brought low. This covers McCormick isolationism and the professional anti-Britishers.

Some See Only Faults
Others see in Britain's postwar record only the faults and the stumbles. They ignore the extraordinary change in India and Burma which has come out of determined policy carried through in spite of the fulminations of the old empire-worshippers.

Part of this policy today is the effort to encourage India and Burma voluntarily to accept a place in the British commonwealth. If that occurs, the whole pattern of co-operation between East and West, between white and colored peoples, will have been enormously advanced.

The American who is stubbornly anti-British, remembering out of the past merely the arrogance, the folly and the brutality in 150 years of world supremacy, has his counterpart in the Englishman who is stubbornly anti-American. The latter likewise remembers merely the arrogance, the boast of power and might.

Beneath the surface here in Britain is a dynamic of anti-Americanism. On both the extreme right and the extreme left are those who would like to see it touched off. The Communists will do everything they can to turn Britain toward Russia and away from the United States. This fits into the Soviet scheme to isolate America.

At the other extreme is the old empire crowd, still powerful in the Conservative Party. They are as isolationist as our Colonel McCormick. They would build an economic wall around the empire, or what is left of it. The end could (Continued on Next Page)

The World and the Mud Puddles

WILLIAM HOLMES MCGUFFEY
We have all heard of McGuffey and McGuffey's Readers. Who was McGuffey and why should we be interested in his Readers?

William Holmes McGuffey prepared the famous McGuffey's Readers that were used in the public schools of the United States from 1836 to 1920. Throughout the last six decades of the Nineteenth Century McGuffey's Readers, although they met keen competition from other Readers, were the dominant Readers of the land. They were published in Volumes One, Two, Three and Four, each reader calculated to fit the minds and abilities of the public school children in the succeeding stages of their education.

Over the edge of Lawrence County lies Darlington, a village in Beaver County, Pennsylvania. In 1819 the Reverend Thomas Hughes, a Presbyterian Minister, who had some years before built a stone Academy at Darlington was riding horseback near the home of McGuffey, who was then about eighteen years old and living in Trumbull County, Ohio, about twenty miles from Darlington, having been brought there by his parents when young McGuffey was two years old. Hughes, passing the home of the McGuffeys, overheard a woman praying aloud in the garden that her children might obtain an education. Straightway, Hughes offered McGuffey an opportunity to study at his Academy in Darlington.

Taught School
Later, McGuffey taught school to earn money to continue his education at Washington and Jefferson College. Before he was graduated, he was appointed professor of ancient languages at Miami University, at Oxford, Ohio, and immediately he received his degree took up his new duties. Although only twenty-six years old, his ability was so marked that he soon took high rank among the faculty at Miami.

In 1820 McGuffey was licensed as a Presbyterian preacher and, although he never held a pastorate, he frequently preached to students and others. He left Miami in 1836 to become president of Cincinnati College. He accepted the presidency of Ohio University at Athens in 1839. He subsequently became a professor at Woodward College in Cincinnati, and in 1845 was named professor of natural and moral philosophy at the University of Virginia, a position he filled with distinction until his death on May 4, 1873.

Prepared Readers
McGuffey, while teaching at Miami University, prepared the manuscripts for his First and Second Readers, which he tried on a number of small children assembled in his home.

One of his biographers, Henry H. Vail, said: "It is evident that these Readers were prepared at the solicitation of the publishers and on such general plan as to number and size as was desired by the publishers. Dr. McGuffey was selected by them as the most competent teacher known to them for the preparation of successful books. He did not prepare the manuscripts and search for a publisher."

The publishing firm was Truman & Smith, of Cincinnati. The First and Second Readers were published in 1836 and the Third and Fourth Readers in 1837.

Through the years the McGuffey Readers were revised five times, but all editions were marked by characteristics of the originals. (Continued on Next Page)

Exploding Burned Child Theory

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

A Yale university scientist—I prefer not to use his name because I feel sure he won't succeed—is carrying on experiments "intended to discover the wellsprings and causes of the various forms of the reaction called love, in its maternal and other forms."

I think this learned gentleman has set himself quite a task. I wish him all the luck in the world, but I sincerely hope that he will throw up his arms in despair and say, after a couple of years of experimenting: "What a fool I've been!"

Let us say he will succeed. Let us say that the "wellsprings and causes of love" will be found to be chemical or physical things, things that can be put into formulae, into bottles and boxes, things that can be measured and weighed and expressed in cube root and fractions.

If that be so it would be Goodbye to Love. It would be Goodbye to Romance, Goodbye to Spring, Goodbye to the Moon and the Blue Sky—Goodbye to Poetry and to most that matters in youth, and about all that matters in old age.

Please, Mr. Scientist, don't find the wellsprings of love. Don't you remember, Mr. Scientist, when you fell in love the first time?

Don't you remember that moonlight night—perhaps on some mountain lake in a canoe—that first embrace, that first kiss, that wonderful feeling of contentment, of warmth, of happiness?

Don't you remember the longing for your loved one when she was just a little while and a little mile away from you? Don't you remember the anguish when you thought that perhaps she did not requite your love? Did you then, Mr. Scientist, worry about scientific facts and formulae? Did you then try to discover why you were in love and whether it was a physical or a chemical or an electrical reaction?

Or did you just drink in every wonderful moment of that first love of yours and enjoy it in the most unsentimental, oh, so delicious way?

Never mind your science, Mr. Scientist. I shall give you a definition of love that beats all your scientific potentials. It was written by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, no scientist, but what a knowledge he had of love: "There is nothing holier in this life of ours than the first consciousness of love—the first fluttering of its silken wings—the first rising sound and breath of that wind which is so soon to sweep through the soul to purify or to destroy."

That is "wellspring" enough for me. (Copyright, 1947, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Did you vote today? . . . if you did, fine . . . if you didn't then we ask why didn't you? If you were registered and eligible to vote today and didn't then you have failed your country. Let's put it another way, if you are a working individual and eligible to vote in this general election and didn't take the opportunity, then why did you go to work this morning? Your answer will probably be, if I want to survive I must work in order to earn enough to buy the necessities of life. Maybe you will say, I went to work in the rain because I had to but I didn't vote because it was raining, and it was too much trouble . . . and any way, I didn't have to.

You are right, you must go to work in the rain whether you want to or not if you want to earn enough to feed, cloth, and make your family happy, but you are wrong when you think that you were made to go to work. No one, only yourself, can make you do anything such as go to work when you don't want to. You work because you are afraid of yourself, afraid you won't eat, afraid you won't have clothing, afraid of the effects of not earning a living, yet, have you stopped to think what will happen when you don't vote? Aren't you afraid of the results of neglecting your privilege, your duty . . . for this negligence could cause all of us our jobs, our happy home.

We are not waving a flag for the mere effect of waving the flag, but we deeply love the United States of America and we feel that every citizen should do all within his power to keep this country a free and effective nation. We believe in the opportunity offered each and every citizen to pull himself up as high as he wishes to go, not being handicapped by social barriers. So, if you didn't vote today you are guilty of letting your country down and in the same category as a draft dodger.

Cites Horatio Alger Damage

By PAUL GALLICO

One of the charges made before the Congressional Committee investigating the Screaming is that the Communist film literati considered it a good day's work, rating a pat on the back from Moscow, if they could slip in a scene, a line or a moment in a picture ridiculing the rich and holding them up to contempt and contumely, or making villains out of them. Good old Party corn!

One More Grudge Owed To Reds
It is just one more grudge I owe the Reds for muddying up the waters of my profession, which for many years has been fiction writing, and thus making things tougher for the craft. The available supply of villains has been dwindling steadily with first this and then that minority setting up a holler if you selected the character who, in the last installment, is led away by the cops from their midst. To nominate a rich man as the fellow who does the dirty work in a story today is likely to bring a Congressional Committee thundering down upon you, charging you with following the party line and propagandizing for Uncle Josef.

Name Was Horatio Alger
I have no opus on the fire at the moment in which in the final chapter it is brought out that it was the Wall Street Tycoon who committed the murder all along, and not the butler, or that the respectable banker was really engaged in the opium trade and robbing widows and orphans on the side. However, some day I may, and against the eventuality I wish to take out a little insurance by pointing out that the man responsible for the greatest and most lasting damage to the concept of the rich man in the United States over the last seventy-five years was not some frustrated Russophile or hairy fellow from the Steppes, but a quiet little American gentleman born in Revere, Mass., in the year 1834, a Harvard graduate, a teacher, a journalist and a Unitarian Minister. His name was Horatio Alger.

Plot Was Always The Same
Before he died in 1899, he had written more than 100 juvenile books read by millions of American boys. I used to devour them by the ton—"Sink or Swim," "Live or Die," "Luck and Pluck," etc. The plot was always the same. The rich square, or miserly village Croesus threatens to foreclose the mortgage on the home of the destitute widow if she cannot meet the interest payment on time. The hero—her poor but honest son—goes out into the world to try to dig up the scratch. After many vicissitudes, he turns up on the last page at the last moment with the hard-earned moolah, pays off the mortgage, foils the wealthy scoundrel and sends him out into the night gnashing his store teeth.

Goes Back To Juvenile Reading
It has taken the country banker and rural money-lending institutions a half century to get out from under the stigma placed upon banks, bankers and greedy rich men in general by Horatio Alger. There are still millions of the older generation in the country who are afraid of mortgages and do not know why, but it goes back to their juvenile reading when Alger used it as the plot gimmick whereby the wealthy ground down the Poor and took their homes away from them by foreclosure. It took me twenty years to overcome my own aversion and learn that a mortgage is something which you cherish and cuddle up to as enabling you to live in a much more expensive house than you can afford, and that the banker who sets it up for you is your pal.

Still The Same Old Influence
But when I was a kid at the turn of the century, the rich man was a nasty bit of work in a high silk hat and fur-lined overcoat who turned you out into the snow if you failed to cough up interest at 6% or blood money, on the dot of mid-day. Only last week, the first sentence spoken by one of the Irish sweeps winners was "I'm going to pay off my mortgage!" Still the influence of that New England Harvard man, that old Crimson, Horatio Alger.

Adult Evening Classes Popular

Six Sections Of Sewing, Total Enrollment 135; Four Sections Of Blueprint Reading

Adult education evening classes recently begun at the senior high school have proved very popular with a large number of persons enrolled, it was announced today from the office of the superintendent of schools.

Three sections of both Clothing I and Clothing II had to be formed as there are 66 enrollments for the former and 69 for the advanced sewing.

Fifty-one enrolled for Typing I and there are two sections for this subject. Thirteen are taking advanced typing.

For chorus there was an opening enrollment of 40. In the short-hand class there are 28 students and in Spanish 27. Jewelry and French each have an enrollment of 19. Eighteen have signed up to attend the class in textile painting. There are 12 studying U. S. history and 11 algebra.

Classes in German and in high school English are being formed and a few places are still open in these subjects and in the history and algebra sections, according to Earle M. Cass, director of vocational education.

In the trade extension classes of the adult education program, four sections have been formed for blueprint reading with a total enrollment of 104 and Ceramics II has 19 students.

There is no cost entailed to attending any of the adult education classes, providing the student attends at least three-fourths of the class sessions. A $5 registration fee is charged which is refunded at the end of the course to all students who have attended 75 per cent of the classes.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

The books attained high rank in the public schools, particularly in the Middle West and the South. A more advanced book was prepared for the publishers by Dr. McGuffey's brother, Alexander H. McGuffey.

First Retail Price
The retail price of the First Reader in 1844 was twelve and one-half cents, and it contained one hundred and eight pages. The Second Reader, two hundred and sixteen pages, sold for twenty-five cents, and the Fourth, three hundred and thirty-six pages, seventy-five cents. In those days, a laborer was paid fifty cents a day. So a man labored a day and a half to buy a Fourth Reader for his child. No wonder books were handed down from child to child.

McGuffey and his Readers to the horse-and-buggy age. The Readers contain the classics of English literature. As one turns the faded pages of these immensely popular books, they emit the familiar quaint scents of the good old days, for they emphasize the principles and the virtues our fathers practiced and bequeathed to us.

Political Spotlight On Kentucky Today As Voters Ballot

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 4.—(INS)—The political spotlight of the nation was centered on Kentucky today where more than half a million voters were expected to vote for the election of a governor and other state officials.

Most observers believed that U. S. Rep. Earle C. Clements, Democrat, would defeat his Republican rival, Eldon Dummit, but the forecasts of a Democratic victory varied from a landslide to a slight majority.

Kentucky, usually Democratic but governed by a Republican administration for the last four years, is the only state to collect a governor in this year's off-year balloting.

Thus, political observers looked to Kentucky to point to some possible trend in next year's presidential elections.

The skies were cloudy for today's balloting, but no rain was forecast, leading election officials to believe that the voting may be heavy and that the turnout may reach the 550,000 mark.

SALLY'S SALLIES

WASHINGTON CALLING

well be Fascism of a sort, thinly disguised by a liberal use of the slogans and symbols of the past. Reasonable men and women in both countries must work against the forces seeking to divide us. In the present period of transition, it is supremely important that the two nations should have a working relationship.

On some levels this is now a reality. The U. S. naval units in the Mediterranean work in close harmony with British units. But understanding and co-operation must come on a much higher level if it is to mean anything.

This is not to say that America must "save" Britain. America can and must help, in the transition period, through the Marshall plan. But only the British can save themselves.

Each nation has a great deal to learn from the other. American industrial techniques and American efficiency are being widely discussed here, where the tempo is so much slower and where habit and tradition tend to check the changes that would mean greater efficiency.

America can learn from Britain a great deal about how to exercise the economic-technical supremacy that is so overwhelmingly the possession of the U. S. today. It took Britain 15 years to learn that lesson after the victories of Trafalgar and Waterloo.

We have nothing like as much time and therefore we must profit by England's experience. Above all, we must understand the role Britain has played.

England's Service To World
Brooks Adams, a wise American who could never be accused of being merely a professional Anglophile, put it this way in "America's Economic Supremacy," published 47 years ago:

"On looking back through the history of the century, no one can fail to appreciate the part played by England. It was she who determined the fate of the modern world at Trafalgar and Waterloo; it was she who checked the aggressions of Russia in Turkey and in the East; it was she who bridled the ambition of Germany; it was she who rendered abortive the coalition forming against the United States at the outbreak of the war with Spain. . . . Americans, in particular, have relied on her to police the globe and keep distant markets open, allowing them to sit at home and reap the advantage without cost and danger."

This last hits especially hard. Without realizing it, America leaned on British power. Now that the power is dwindling, the responsibility falls on the United States. Part of that responsibility is to make sure that we do not lose the qualities and the capacities of a people who kept the equilibrium in a troubled world for more than a century.

French Dock Workers On Protest Strike

BORDEAUX, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Five hundred French dock workers struck today in protest against an increase in the amount of taxes deducted from their wages. The tax hike became effective Saturday.

The strike virtually halted shipping traffic at the port. In Paris, the finance ministry is preparing to submit for approval of the French assembly a tax reform program designed to hike corporation profits taxes, increase personal exemptions and get reluctant farmers to pay their taxes.

The present personal exemption is $715. The finance ministry is said to want it raised to $800 because of the inflationary drain on incomes.

START WIDENING
422 INTERSECTION

Indications point to the establishment by the city of a free parking lot for motor vehicles on the site where the city building is to be constructed, which is the northeast corner of North Jefferson street at Grant street.

The indications were contained Monday in a suggestion by Mayor John F. Haven to colleagues. He pointed out that until construction of the new municipal structure got under way, the plot would make an excellent parking place.

Fellow councilmen agreed with him and a motion was adopted whereby D. O. Davies and Joseph D. Alexander were named to investigate the feasibility of the project.

During the discussion Solicitor Robert M. White stated that more free plots were needed here, and cited the fact that on Monday nights it is impossible to find parking space in the downtown district.

Start Work Tuesday

James Gibson, director of improvements, today told colleagues the street department would commence widening Grant and Sampson streets Tuesday morning. A 40-foot radius curve will be made at Sampson and Grant streets. However, the actual widening of Grant and Sampson streets may not occur until next year.

Plans call for Sampson street to be widened ten feet for 464 feet north of Grant street, on the east side, and Grant street, 10 feet between Sampson street and the Shennango river.

Approve Plans For Sewers
Council authorized Mayor John F. Haven to sign a contract in behalf of the city with the P. & L. E. R. D. whereby the city's contractor, the Continental Construction company, can lay a sewer beneath the railroad property, as part of the seventh ward sanitary relief sewer.

Plans of City Engineer John Z. Street for a sanitary sewer, starting at the junction of Castle and Gibson streets to extend to Wilson avenue, were approved by council.

Sale of City Lot
Council received a petition from property owners, requesting that a street light be installed at the intersection of Ryan and Stanton avenues. The request was referred to Safety Director D. O. Davies.

Sale of a three-cornered lot in Industrial street to Stanley Puzio was approved by council. It was bought by the city to make Industrial street an ordained thoroughfare. He will pay $200 for the land.

Grant Use of Building
Upon motion of Property Director D. O. Davies, the Volunteer Electronics Warfare company 418 USNR, has been granted use of building 316, Deshon annex, Cunningham park, rent free. The government will provide communication equipment to the company.

Rev. Homer, Reformed Free Methodist church, was granted sanction by the city to use the West Side park, Greenwood avenue, for religious services.

The exterior of the store is trimmed in an imitation marble with the latest designed neon signs. The show windows are so designed as to bring each item displayed within close range of the eye.

Brilliant Lighting Methods
Once inside the store, customers will be amazed at the large roomy aisles and the brilliant cold cathode lighting which enables one to shop in ease and comfort. GOOD SHEEP MANAGEMENT
PRACTICES SUGGESTED

Lawrence county sheepmen are facing a difficult feed situation—highest priced feed, scarest feed, and feed which means most in the history of the enterprise.

That is the way W. B. Connell, livestock extension specialist of the Pennsylvania State College, views the present dilemma of the sheep grower.

No ewe should be kept in the flock which cannot produce a profit. Old ewes with poor udders and broken mouths at this season are in fairly good flesh. Therefore, it is a good time to let the butcher have them and thus save the feed for more profitable animals.

In view of the feed situation, it is imperative that breeding ewes be treated for internal parasites. Feed is too high priced and scarce to feed parasites.

It also is vitally important that farmers check their rams to see that the ewes are being settled. Smeared the breasts of the rams with ocher mixed with used crankcase oil every other morning. At the end of 14 days, change the color of the ocher. The results will indicate the ewes that are returning to service.

With 1,359,444 fewer cars and trucks registered in 1946 than in 1941, United States' vehicles used a billion gallons more gasoline than in the peak pre-war motor year. In 1946, highway gasoline consumption rose to twenty-five billion, two hundred million gallons.

The United States Fish and Wildlife service was created in 1940 by President Roosevelt's reorganization plan, which consolidated the former Bureau of Biological Survey and the Bureau of Fisheries.

The Meridian girl, Karen Lee

The tragedy resulted from the work of a Halloween prankster who had overturned an outhouse. Francis Irvin McCormick, 40, of Youngstown, O., a former Butler resident, drowned in the Allegheny river near the Foxburg bridge when his boat overturned. McCormick's death resulted when heavy clothes and high top boots dragged him beneath the current, before he was able to swim to shore. McCormick and his brother, Edward, had been camping near Knox.

Pension Demands Will Be Stressed

Labor Relations Experts See Pensions As Center Of
New Labor Demands

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Labor relations experts believe today that many unions may put demands for old age pension plans ahead of a third-round wage boost in forthcoming contract negotiations.

These officials feel that union chiefs privately would like to avoid another wage campaign because of possible public and administration criticism for adding to the inflationary spiral.

Moreover, most labor leaders are expected to go slow on wage talks until congress acts on President Truman's request for emergency legislation to curb rising living costs.

Concentrate On Pensions

If this is done, union strategy may be to concentrate on retirement funds as an alternative to a further wage hike. Pension plans, it is argued, would be non-inflationary and likely to receive governmental support in event the issue came up for third party intervention.

The recent CIO national convention in Boston underscored this possibility in a resolution urging a vigorous collective bargaining effort to bring workers security through sickness and old age benefit programs.

The CIO unions considered most likely to take the initiative on the convention's recommendation are the steel workers, headed by CIO President Philip Murray, and the United Automobile Workers, led by Walter Reuther.

Demands Presented

Demands for a pension program have been presented in past steel negotiations and probably will be renewed with vigor when that industry's wage contracts come up for renewal after the first of the year.

The UAW already has served notice on the auto industry that it will be faced with a demand for a pension program for its members. The UAW's 1948 contract demands will be served first on General Motors.

Although Ford workers recently voted to accept an 11 1/2-cent hourly pay boost and six paid holidays in preference to a lesser wage increase plus a pension, the UAW warned:

"Any corporation executive of the auto industry who interprets this decision to mean that auto workers do not desire pensions and other social security benefits is sadly and dangerously mistaken."

Two On Bicycle Hurt In Collision

Auto And Bicycle In Accident At Highland And Moody Ave.—
Injuries Last Night

Two youths are in the Jameson Memorial hospital today the result of a collision between an auto and a bicycle at Highland and East Moody avenues, at 10:50 p. m. Monday. The auto was driven by Albert Street, of 222 East Moody avenue. The injured are:

Robert Downs, aged 16 years, 717 Croton avenue; severe contusion of right knee.

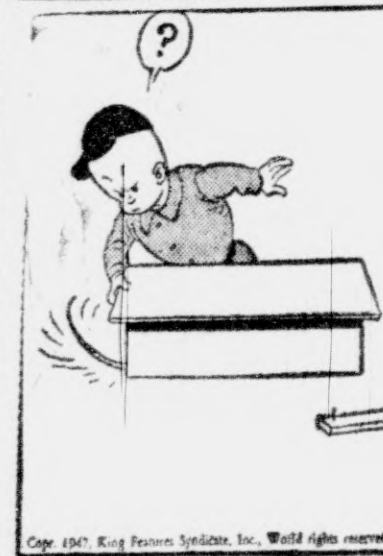

According to Mr. Street, he was driving north on Highland avenue. He stopped his car to permit a south bound auto to pass.

While making the turn from Highland into Moody avenue, the bicycle struck the front fender of the car.

Nelson was riding on the handle-bars. He was thrown onto the hood of the auto.

Downs was thrown to the street. An ambulance conveyed the youths to the hospital.

Mississippi Is Balloting Today For New Senator

Five Democrats And One Republican
Seek To Fill Seat Vacated
By Late Bilbo

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 4.—(INS)—Some 200,000 Mississippi voters—both white and Negro—vote today for a successor to the late Sen. Theodore Bilbo.

At the same time, the voters will confirm the election of the Democratic party nominees to state offices.

One of five Democrats seek to fill the vacant Mississippi seat in the U. S. Senate—a seat that has been empty since 1946.

There is also one Republican on the candidates' list. He is L. R. Collins, but he could expect only a token vote in traditionally Democratic Mississippi. Collins conducted no active campaign.

All Predict Victory
The other five Democratic candidates, however, all predicted victory for themselves.

Former Mississippi gubernatorial candidate Paul B. Johnson Jr. of Hattiesburg said:

"I believe that I am a mathematical certainty to win this election."

Circuit Court Judge John Stennis of DeKalb put it this way:

"Victory is in sight."
The former legal adviser of Sen. Bilbo, Forest Jackson, of Jackson, asserted:

"As the outstanding champion of white supremacy I will be swept into the Senate with a large plurality."

In keeping with National Education Week, which is being observed this week, Chairman Tom Allen has secured Dr. Frank L. Burton, superintendent of schools here, to talk on an educational topic.

School Girls Hit By Careening Auto, One Fatally Hurt

Two Suffer Injuries, Girls En Route To School When Accident Occurs

MONONGAHELA, Pa., Nov. 4.—(INS)—A 16-year-old Monongahela high school girl was fatally hurt and two others were seriously injured today when an automobile bounded to a curbstone and struck them while enroute to their classes. Chief of Police W. H. Stewart identified the dead girl as Daryne Bryner. Her injured companions, Dorothy Castor, 16, and Mildred Smith, 16, are in Monongahela Memorial Hospital suffering fractured skulls and cuts and bruises. Police arrested Mike Stepanovich, of Pittsburgh, as the driver of the car. Stepanovich told Stewart that he dozed off while driving and his car careened, hurled the curb and struck the girls. A specially concocted oil is used in skywriting, about a gallon of this special mixture being required for each letter written.

Seek To Indict Chicago Boy On Murder Charge

Boy, 12, Signs Written Statement: Re-Enacts Killing Of Chum In Woods

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Chicago authorities moved today to prepare a murder indictment against a 12-year-old fifth-grade schoolboy who signed a written statement that he killed his 7-year-old chum, Lonnie Felick, last October 18. The tow-headed schoolboy, Howard Lang, signed a statement yesterday which merely said: "I killed Lonnie Felick on Saturday, Oct. 18, 1947, in Thatcher woods forest preserve."

State's Attorney William J. Tuohy said he would present evidence to the grand jury next Thursday. He declared: "Lang should be indicted for murder and he should be tried for murder."

Seek Indictment
Tuohy's decision to seek an indictment against the 12-year-old boy was made after a study of Illinois court records and laws which generally ban criminal prosecution of persons under 14 years.

Assistant State's Attorney Richard Austin who will have charge of the case said that, if no indictment is returned because of the prisoner's youth, he will turn the case over to juvenile court.

After signing the statement, Lang went to the woods and re-enacted the crime. He told police how he stabbed Lonnie with a pocket knife and then battered him with a concrete slab.

Held Victim's Feet
Gerald Michalek, 9, another playmate, accompanied Lang and told police how he had held the victim's feet while the frail, blond schoolboy had struck Lonnie. Gerald said he had been threatened if he didn't help Lang.

Tuohy said he would ask school authorities, police and juvenile officials to investigate conditions at Van Humboldt school, which young Lang attended. Tuohy said he understood conditions at the school were "abominable". He said he wanted the findings reported to him.

Poppies Mean Help And Hope To Many Vets And Families

Perry S. Gaston Unit Will Conduct Annual Poppy Sale Here Saturday

"Help and hope, is the meaning of the memorial poppy, to those who are paying the human cost of World War victories," Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, chairman of Perry S. Gaston Unit No. 343, American Legion Auxiliary stated today, as the Auxiliary furthered preparations for the annual observance of Poppy Day, November 8.

"All the money contributed by those who wear poppies in memory of the war dead goes to aid the war's living victims, the disabled veterans, their families, and the families of the dead," Mrs. Miller explained.

The government does much for the disabled men, but they cannot do everything. There are many veterans and veterans' families which do not come within the legal provisions for compensation. There are many others whose compensation is too meager to meet their needs. There are many fields into which official agencies cannot reach, and there the auxiliary goes with aid made possible by the poppy contributions, she explained.

"These are our disabled veterans and dependent families. Their sacrifices were made in our defense. Poppy Day gives us all an opportunity to do something for them ourselves. Buying a wearing a poppy shows that we recognize and are grateful for their sacrifices," Mrs. Miller stated in conclusion.

Police are holding two men for investigation, following their arrest last night in a Long Avenue business place. They gave the names of Charles Wiley, and Fred Weir, of Scioto Street. Both are colored.

Their arrest resulted from threats they were alleged to have made.

Weir's person was found a blackjack, knife and numbers book. He also had $316 in cash.

Army To Intensify Leadership Course

Four New Leadership Schools Expanded To Train Large Number Of Recruits

Four new potential leaders' schools, conducted by the regular army for selected new recruits, who show evidence of leadership potentialities, have been expanded to train 1,200 potential leaders every six weeks, it was announced here today by Cpl. Pete A. Colla of the local U. S. army and U. S. air force recruiting station.

Designed to mold recruits with previous military experience into enlisted leaders who can serve as non-commissioned officers in the various branches of combat arms, the leadership courses have already proved so successful that they have been extended from four to six weeks, Cpl. Colla states.

These four schools are located at Camp Jackson, S. C.; Fort Dix, N. J.; Fort Knox, Ky., and Fort Ord, Calif. Some graduates have already been promoted to the rank of sergeant, and all who graduate are appointed immediately to the rank of Pfc.

For further information, young men with ambition to get ahead are asked to make inquiry at the local U. S. army and U. S. air force recruiting station, located in room 202, Post Office building, or phone 7593.

In Scotland the earliest almanacs probably were produced about the beginning of the 16th century. Shortly after the beginning of the 17th century, the almanacs or "prognostications," published at Aberdeen had begun to acquire a great reputation.

Susquehanna U. Administration Building Burns

Estimate Damage Of $200,000 To Three-Story Structure At Selinsgrove, Pa.

SELINSGROVE, Pa., Nov. 4.—
(INS)—The administration building of Susquehanna university in Selinsgrove was in shambles today in the wake of a fire of undetermined origin that razed the three-story structure.

College authorities estimated the loss at $200,000.

The blaze broke out in the dome of the 89-year-old campus landmark and spread rapidly despite efforts of 10 fire companies aided by students and local residents.

Lucius L. Walton of Hackensack,
N. J., a student at the university, was given first-aid treatment when overcome by smoke and exhaustion.

College records, kept in the administration office, were brought to safety by the student body.

Suggests Allowing Displaced Persons To Enter Country

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(INS)— Sen. McGrath, R. I., chairman of the Democratic National Commitee, favors American immigration quotas with displaced persons.

McGrath, who recently returned from Europe, proposed in a radio program that the United States admit selected refugees who have skills needed in America.

He suggested that this country set up a displaced persons commission, composed of several members of the Senate and House and representatives of the Public Health Department, Management and Labor.

The Senator said the proposed commission could determine conditions under which displaced persons would be permitted to come to the United States and the types of persons to be chosen. He explained:

"We are the greatest mass production country on the globe, but in one particular we are lacking —sufficiently large groups of highly trained artisans, especially of a technical nature."
McGrath placed the European refugee problem immediately after foreign aid and high prices and predicted the matter will be taken up by Congress in the regular session which begins in January.

Anniversary Of U. S. Marines To Be Celebrated

November 10 Marks 172nd Anniversary Of U. S. Marine Corps

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 4.—(INS)—The nation's most highly honored military organization—the United States Marine Corps—celebrates its 172nd anniversary on November 10.

On the eve of the 173rd year of their existence, the marines can look back on a year of comparative peace. With their reorganization to peacetime strength virtually completed, Uncle Sam's "Leathernecks" have assumed their familiar role as guardians of American rights and property throughout the far corners of the earth.

The 172nd year marked an important chapter in the annals of Marine Corps history. The year saw the complete reorganization of Fleet Marine Forces—saw the forming of the largest Marine Corps Reserve in history!

Explains Reorganization
General A. A. Vandegrift, commandant of the Marine Corps, explained the reorganization of fleet components. "To provide for the possibility of atomic warfare...to give increased flexibility to the striking forces."

The marines are ready for any eventually.

In its reserve, the Marine Corps now has 54,000 "citizen marines" scattered across the regular establishment. They could be mobilized immediately in event of another national emergency.

Today the Marine Corps is training at posts and stations throughout the world. Marines are still in China...as part of a new command, Fleet Marine Force West Pacific, with headquarters at Tsingtao.

First Division Return

The first division has returned to the United States, and is based on the west coast.

The second division is stationed at Camp Lejeune, North Carolina, while the third brigade has been formed on the island of Guam.

Marine aviation includes Air Fleet Marine Force, Pacific, with headquarters at Ewa, Territory of Hawaii; Marine Air, West Coast, with headquarters at El Toro, California; and Air Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, with headquarters at Cherry Point, North Carolina.

Marines Will Pause

Marines throughout the world will pause during their rigorous training schedules on the tenth, to commemorate the 172nd anniversary of their corps.

Appropriate ceremonies, featuring cake-cutting exercises and high-lighted by the commandant's birthday message, will mark the observances.

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

BREAKING BREAD BEFORE BUTTERING A "MUST"

"In a recent column you answer a question concerned the breaking of bread, a topic which has given rise to much controversy between my family and me. In your answer you say 'never, of course, butter a whole slice or even a half slice of bread and butter to eat.' Can you give me a good, sound reason for this? You seem to consider it self-evident, as indicated by the phrase 'of course' in the excerpt quoted. You must admit that it is far more efficient, less wasteful of time and motion and more conservative of effort, to butter a whole slice of bread at once and then, if desired, to break it. Buttering bread in this manner, eating it broken or unbroken, certainly interferes in no way with the actions of other individuals at the table."

Answer: When man lived in a cave and hunted in the forest for his meals, he savagely pulled apart his find and ate it with his fingers. But with the invention of the knife and fork and the development of modern table etiquette, we have all progressed to the point where we desire to live graciously and do our best to give the impression of breeding and good taste.

Those who refuse to follow the dictates of propriety—who wish to be laws unto themselves—may do so, just as they may disregard table silver and tear their meat apart. There is no law against that!

If we care to give a civilized impression, we must live up to certain prescribed rules of etiquette, one of which is to break bread into at least quarters before buttering and eating it. It is far from an attractive sight to see anyone biting into a whole slice of bread.

Question: Please let me know if it is necessary to send a gift when one is invited but does not attend the wedding reception. The bride, in this case, is not well known to me but her mother is a friend.

Answer: You must send a gift when you are invited to a wedding reception, whether or not you attend.

Sees Britons As Getting Uneasy
On Socialism

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—(INS)—The British Labor party's setback in recent municipal elections is an indication that Britons "are getting a little uneasy about socialism," G. A. Hebden, British industrialist, declared Monday.

Hebden, general manager of the South Yorkshire chemical works, was in Pittsburgh as head of a five-man delegation of the British Coke Research association, to meet with leaders in the coal industry.

Regarding Britain's nationalization of the coal industry, Hebden said:

Had Mistaken Idea

"I think many of the workers expected too much and had a mistaken idea of the meaning of nationalization. Actually the coal industry is operated by the same men who operated it under the free enterprise system.

"It does not belong to the miners, but to the nation. It is the nation which gets the profits. The miners are in the same position they were before."

Even if Churchill returns as head of the government "tomorrow," Hebden said, he wouldn't be able to denationalize the coal industry.

The industrialist continued: "Though we are disappointed with the advent of socialism, we realize it is the will of the people and we shall try to make a go of it. We will get out of it just what we put into it in the way of work—and no more."

Basic Study Plan

Staff Of Tax Experts Will Study Effect Of National Tax Policy On Business

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 4.—(INS)—The Harvard graduate school of business administration announced Monday a plan for a basic study of the effect of federal taxes on American business enterprise.

The study will be conducted by a staff of tax experts. It calls for investigation of the actual effect of national tax policy on business individuals and corporations.

The researchers will use the "case method" developed at the business school to uncover the impact of tax policies on business management in real situations.

Will Run Into 1949
Harvard authorities said the study probably would not be completed until 1949, but that announcements would be made as to progress during the research.

The project is being financed by the Merrill Foundation for Advancement of Financial Knowledge with a grant of $175,000.

Dean Donald K. David of the business school announced the study. He said:

"American business and the American people are now and have been for some years living in a high-tax economy. The outlook is that the total amount of federal taxation probably will remain high for many years to come. Taxes no longer are merely a minor item in business management, but have become instead a major factor in the making of business decisions."

President Truman
Approves Board To Review Disloyalty

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(INS)—President Truman on Monday approved the membership of an 18-man board which will act on disloyalty charges against government employees.

Names of the review board will be made public soon. They were submitted to Mr. Truman by Harry B. Mitchell, who heads the civil service commission.

Mitchell said that every effort was made to select a bi-partisan board.

This development came as state department officials refused to back down on their stand that 10 employees engaged in highly secret work are not to be told specifically why they were summarily fired on June 23. Nor will they get their jobs back.

12 Million Dollars can't prevent a Gas Shortage this winter!

But maybe You can!

For the year 1947 your gas company allocated 12 million dollars toward the ultimate plan of preventing gas shortages.

Yet there could easily be a gas shortage this winter.

More people than ever before depend on gas for home heating, cooking, water heating and refrigeration. This unprecedented demand keeps present gas supply lines loaded to capacity even in normal winter weather. A sudden cold wave doubles this demand, reducing pressures in the lines to dangerously low levels.

Actually, there is plenty of natural gas at the source—in the abundant gas fields of Texas and Oklahoma and even in the nearby gas wells of Pennsylvania and West Virginia. The scarcity exists in the capacity of the pipe lines that bring this precious fuel from the source to your home.

Although we allocated 12 million dollars to expand our distribution and gas storage facilities—a part of this expansion program will not be completed this year due to shortages in vital materials. The work that has been completed will help considerably... but we must still ask our customers to cooperate by conserving this precious fuel wherever possible.

Help Save this Precious Fuel

1. Please don't use your gas range to heat your kitchen.
2. Do your washing on some other day than Monday.
3. Set your furnace thermostat at 68°—still lower at night.
4. Shut off rooms not in use—particularly attics and second floor bedrooms.
5. Don't use gas heaters to supplement your furnace.
6. Use hot water sparingly—don't keep it running needlessly.
7. Install storm sash and insulation—your savings on heating bills will amaze you.

Vandals Use Space Of Court House Memorial Board As Dumping Ground

OTHER HAPPENINGS
IN COURT HOUSE

County authorities would be interested in knowing who was responsible for using the space back of the war memorial honor roll on the court house lawn. On Monday morning Janitor Ernest McCracken found a load of cans dumped there, apparently by some vandal who has neither respect for the memory of men who died in service nor any idea of civic pride.

The county jail is far from full at the present time. One of the empty cells is waiting for the culprit if he or she can be found.

ATTEND ANNIVERSARY
Butler honored a centenarian last Saturday night. Attorney W. D. Brandon celebrated his 100th anniversary and attending the celebration were leading lawyers and judges of the state. Speakers at the centennial of Mr. Brandon were Chief Justice George W. Maxey of the Pennsylvania State Supreme Court and Attorney John G. Buchanan.

Mr. Brandon still practices law, despite his age. From the Lawrence county bar the following attended: Former Judge James A. Chambers, District Attorney Leroy K. Donaldson, City Solicitor Robert M. White and Attorneys Orville Brown, Elmer D. O'Neill, Sherman K. Levine and Joseph Solomon.

Kiss and Make Up

BEAMING happily, Attorney Samuel Starr sees Martha and Walter Duszynski end their 18-month Chicago divorce court battle with a kiss of reconciliation. Duszynski is tearing up the divorce proceedings papers. The Duszynskis are the 134th couple Starr had reconciled. (International)

Tara is a hill in County Meath, Ireland. It is about 500 feet in height and is noted as the site of the palace of the ancient kings of Ireland. The lines of the ancient palace may still be traced in the mounds and earthenworks which crown the summit of the hill.

Reptiles are not numerous in the Alps, in Switzerland, but insects of all kinds flourish.

What To Do
For That Sluggish,
Down-and-Out
Feeling

Remember the time when you could eat like a horse, bubbled-over with energy, felt happy as a lark? Was it not because you liked to eat—didn't know what digestion was, felt strong as an ox? As age advances the "old stomach" and the ever-changing blood need help. Now you may again release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Still Danger Of Underground Fires
In State Forests

HARRISBURG, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Secretary of Forests and Waters M. F. Draemel said today that Pennsylvania's rain-drenched timberlands still were threatened by possible "underground" fires.

There was always danger that small, undetected fires smoldering under moss or around roots of trees would reach open air and burst into flame, he explained.

"Until snow is on the ground we will not be secure from this danger," Draemel declared.

He said no fires had been reported since the opening of the small game season Saturday, an indication that sportsmen had practiced caution.

"Forests are always in danger, however, and I urge hunters to continue their precautionary measures when disposing of matches and using fire," he said.

Coniferous trees, such as pine, will burn even if wet, he explained.

Wilmington Judge
Grounds Human Fly

WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 4.—(INS)—A human fly who believed in preparedness has been grounded in Wilmington.

The "fly"—Linwood Elan, 35—was arrested after scaling the wall of the four-story public school 22 building.

He told police a pillow tied to his head was for "protection."

"According to the laws of gravity," he said, "if you fall from a high place you usually land on your head. I wasn't taking any chances."

Neither was the judge. Elan was grounded, fined $25 and costs on a disorderly conduct charge.

Young Porto Rican
Migratory Workers
Are Stranded Here

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—(INS)—A U. S. labor department spokesman said today that some 300 young Puerto Rican migratory farm workers cut off from their jobs prematurely are stranded in Philadelphia.

The group came to the United States last summer for work on farms in the Philadelphia region.

The spokesman said the youths had been hired for "guaranteed" periods ranging up to one year, but all had been let go after only 10 or 12 weeks labor.

State employment bureau officials were pessimistic about the chances of the stranded Puerto Ricans drawing jobless pay benefits because they did not work long enough to be eligible for unemployment compensation.

Less and less of the household funds are going into domestic help, according to a Tile Council of America report. The proportion of housekeeping funds used to pay servants dropped from 18 per cent in 1921 to 16 per cent in 1925, and to 12 per cent in 1942. During the war years, the report estimates the percentage went even lower.

Armour Lashes At 'Evil System' Of Soviet Russia

DETROIT, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Assistant Secretary of State Norman Armour lashed out Monday at the "evil system" exemplified by Soviet Russia's domination of a group of satellite states and warned of a "police state" threat to the western hemisphere.

Armour, addressing the Detroit Economic club's inter-American luncheon, spoke bitterly of those "small groups of men who have arrogated to themselves arbitrary power."

The state department official declared that if such groups "succeeded in arranging and dictating the lives of western Europe, who can doubt those men will sooner or later make a major attempt against the freedom of us who live in the western hemisphere."

Grimly Warns
Armour warned grimly: "We cannot always wait and drift until the issue is presented on the battlefields, or in the form of Pearl Harbor."

The assistant secretary pointed out that peace and the preservation of freedom are the principal aims of the United Nations.

He said that each nation's "geographic community of states" can implement those aims by undertaking an initial responsibility for regulating relations among themselves consistent with the purposes for which UN was created.

But he asserted that such regional arrangements—as in the case of the Inter-American system—must be consistent with UN aims.

The relatives said they had been advised that Boyer's head bore bruises when it was removed from the river last Friday.

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 4.—Let's see how Hollywood is getting wound up for another week. Rita Hayworth, the town's most photogenic star, is dyeing her hair dark red, much darker than its natural shade, for her role in "Carmen." This is her first profit-sharing picture with Columbia.

Headed by Director Charles Vidor, the cast departs for three weeks' location at Mountainous Lone Pine, Calif., Nov. 17, which will give Rita time to get her divorce from Orson Welles next week. Rita was a light red-head in "Down To Earth," but turned blonde for "Lady From Shanghai."

Ginger Guest
Ginger Rogers heads for San Francisco at the end of the week to be guest of honor at the newspaper photographers shindig Friday night. Thursday night she'll visit the Golden Gate theatre to see her riotous comedy "It Had To Be You" for the second time. Saturday afternoon the photos will take Ginger to a football game.

On the subject of football, the Rose Bowl had its most unusual combination of sports Friday. The University of California was practicing for its Saturday game with U. C. L. A. and Columbia was shooting a horse racing sequence for "The Return of October" on the track surrounding the field. The company had gone over there to shoot the scene Wednesday, but—whisper it, folks—a drizzle prevented.

Whip Up Blizzard

Over at M-G-M they just whipped up a gosh darned raring-to-go blizzard for "The Hills of Home," with such glamour as Janet Leigh, Tom Drake and Edmond Gwynn. Blocks of ice were powdered for ground covering and from the ceiling descended whitened corn flakes. The players suffered the worse. Director Fred Wilcox and the others wore gauze masks, but the powdery stuff still got up their noses.

Cary Grant, who is only a bathroom baritone, is doing a bit of vocalizing for RKO in "Mr. Blandings Builds His Dream House," the song sounded something like "Home, Home in Connecticut. Where I'll Have a Place to Hang My Petticoats."

Union Official's Home Is Blasted

CLEVELAND, Nov. 4.—(INS)—The home of a Cleveland union official was blasted Monday by a bomb which broke 77 windows and caused other damage to 16 surrounding homes.

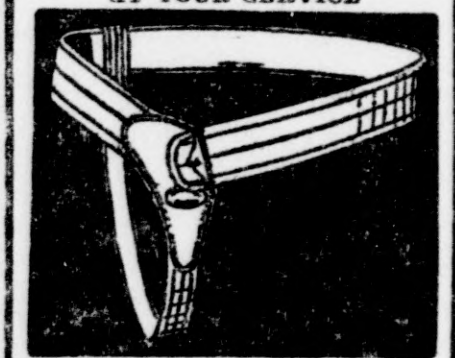

David Smith, president of Local 776, CIO-United Automobile Workers, whose home was the target of the unknown bomb thrower, told police "nobody had any reason" to throw the bomb, believed by detectives to have been made of dynamite sticks.

The bomb was thrown at the rear of the house, located on Cleveland's near East Side, and caused damage of $500 to Smith's home and an estimated $200 to neighboring homes. No one was reported injured.

PHENOMENAL PUBLIC ACCEPTANCE!

THE RESULT OF SUPREME BEAUTY, LUXURY and VALUE

THE FRAZER MANHATTAN

ONE OUT OF EVERY FOUR OF OUR OWNERS DRIVES
A FRAZER MANHATTAN

You Can Afford America's Largest-Selling Fine Car!

The Frazer Manhattan has broken every sales record in the long history of the automobile industry. Never before has any big, luxurious fine car sold in such volume in less than seven months from the date it was first announced! It has had a truly phenomenal public acceptance—more than 25,000 buyers in less than seven months!

Henry J. Kaiser and Joseph W. Frazer put the seal of their approval on this new product of Willow Run, last March. They knew they had put into it supreme beauty and luxurious appointments, smooth power and maximum performance, unusual safety features and long-lasting dependability—plus the balance and poise that would make it the easiest riding car in the world. They knew they had spared no expense—in engineering, in materials, in precision manufacturing methods. They knew, in short, that this car had what America wanted! Then they priced it "right"—hundreds of dollars below what would have been justified by such superlative quality. To everything else they added value! For they wanted to make and sell this great car in volume.

They were right in their planning. For while Frazer Manhattan production has been increased five-fold since last April, public demand has never yet been filled!

Come and see—and drive—this big, handsome, roomy, ultra-modern motor car. You will agree with its makers that it has everything you have hoped to enjoy in a post-war automobile—and at a price you can afford to pay!

Oil Company Head Denies Accusations

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(INS)—An Arabian-American Oil Co. official denied Monday that his firm obtained a ten and one-half million dollar price boost on oil sold the Navy in 1945 by falsely claiming King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia was responsible for the increase.

Fred A. Davies, vice president of the company, told the senate war investigating committee that under Arabian-Americans concession a royalty of 21 cents a barrel necessarily was paid to Ibn Saud.

Challenges Assertion
Davies challenged the assertion of former Navy Lieut. D. E. Bodenschatz, who said he had been told that the king doubled his royalty demand, thus causing the company to boost its price from 94 cents to $1.05 a barrel for 50 million barrels.

The company official said the $1.05 figure was based on the then current price of oil on the United States gulf coast and that it was "just a happenstance" that the increase coincided with the royalty paid Ibn Saud.

North Adams, Mass., was settled about 1765, and was separated from Adams and incorporated as a town in 1878. In 1895 it became a city. The site of Fort Massachusetts, which was captured by the French and Indians under Vaudreuil in 1746, is in the western part of the city.

Steel Production Sets New Records

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—(INS)—President Benjamin F. Fairless of the U. S. Steel Corp., today said that the October production of steel in the Pittsburgh area established eight all-time records.

Topping the list was the production of more than a million tons of steel ingots from the open hearths of Carnegie-Illinois plant in Dravosburg, and a world's record of 166,338 tons of strip steel. "This record breaking production is our best answer today to the crying need for steel," Fairless said.

Steelers-Eagles May Finish In Deadlock For Eastern Honors

Showdown Battle Will Be Staged November 30

Philadelphians Must Take Game To Keep In Fight; Win For Jock's Boys Would Allow Cinch Division Title; Both Have Dropped Two.

By JIMMY JORDAN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 3.—(INS)—The guys with the brass hats in the National Football league conceivably may have to sweep out another stadium and dust off the seats again for a post-season sectional playoff game.

If it happens, it most probably will be an all-Pennsylvania affair. And it really should be something to watch.

For right now, the Philadelphia Eagles and Pittsburgh Steelers definitely are the class of the league's eastern division. And off the records of the two club thus far this season, it certainly isn't beyond the realm of possibility they may wind up in a deadlock for the eastern title.

The Steeler-Eagle game at Philadelphia November 30 should be the deciding factor. If the surprising Steelers should win that one, they would just about be "in" with their first title in their league history. If the Eagles take it, that's when the chances of a tie in the final standings would manifest itself.

Each Has Lost Two
Right now, each has lost two games. The Los Angeles Rams mauled Pittsburgh, 48 to 7 early in the season, and then the Steelers lost a weird affair at Washington, 27 to 26. The Chicago Bears battered Philadelphia, 40 to 7, and then the Eagles collapsed in the last period to drop a 35-24 decision to Pittsburgh after leading 24-14 at the half.

The Steelers are ahead of Philadelphia in the standings only because they have played one more game than the Eagles.

For the rest of the way, the road may be a bit rocky here and there, with the Steelers perhaps having a bit the best of it.

They meet Washington, the inept New York Giants, Chicago Bears and Boston, in addition to the Eagles. Statistics of the first Redskins-Steelers game were in favor of Pittsburgh, even if the score wasn't, and a much improved team that now holds two victories over Green Bay's Packers doesn't figure to lose another to the "Skins. The Giants and Boston already have been easy marks. The Bears are something else again.

Eagles Meet Two
Philadelphia, meanwhile, has the Chicago Cardinals and Green Bay for its final two games of the season. Before the Pittsburgh encounter, the Eagles meet New York once and Boston twice. Those three should be easy.

Then comes the Pittsburgh game.

Even should the Eagles win that one, there still would be those big tough Cardinals of Jimmy Conzelmann's, and Curly Lambeau's Packers. A Philadelphia victory over Pittsburgh—according to the form sheets—would give the Steelers only three defeats at the end of their season, December 7.

The Eagles should have only two losses, if they beat Pittsburgh, but would then have those two tough Western division clubs to face.

If both teams follow the script from here on out, and if the Eagles avenge that first defeat by Rooney U, a loss to either the Cardinals or Packers by Philadelphia would throw the Eastern division into a deadlock. A loss to both, and the Steelers would back into the title a week after finishing their own chores.

That's a lot of speculation, but it conceivably can happen. In fact, just about anything can happen in the National Football league—and usually does.

Floor Managers Meet Thursday
All managers of city basketball teams interested in the forming of a strong city or industrial basketball loop here this winter, are asked to meet at the Arena at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening. Stanley Shaw, Arena owner, has a new plan for a league that he wishes to present to the managers.

Here's the basic Stetson town hat for your wardrobe, the new Whippet. Its sleek, graceful lines help you look your very best when you go out to lunch or visit in the evening. More people wear Stetson Hats than any other brand—the Whippet's one of the reasons.

CONN THROUGH SO HE ASSERTS

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Billy Conn, who still insists he can lick most of the present day heavyweight crop, disclosed that he was definitely through with the ring.

Conn admitted today that old age was creeping up on him and that he can not afford to become punch drunk.

He said he had no immediate plans, adding:

"I won't be looking for hand-outs either."

'Big Red' Buried Today In Kentucky

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 4.—(INS)—"Big Red" goes to his final resting place today.

Racing fans throughout the country were asked to pay silent tribute to the great race horse—officially registered as Man O' War—when the bugler sounds "taps" at 3 p. m. CST.

Three thousand First Cavalry division soldiers were to present arms in Tokyo after the casket containing Man O' War's body is lowered into its grave at Faraway Farm, Owner Samuel D. Riddle's property near Lexington, Ky.

"Big Red" was an honorary colonel of the division.

The champion thoroughbred's embalmed body lay in state yesterday. American Veterinary society officials said it was the first time the body of a horse had been embalmed.

Man O' War was defeated only once in 21 starts by the aptly named Upset. Following his retirement, he had served such racing champions as War Admiral, Clyde Van Dusen and Crusader.

Browns Fire 'Muddy' Ruel

(BULLETIN)

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Herald (Muddy) Ruel was fired today as manager of St. Louis Browns after serving only one year in that position.

Ruel was signed by the club last winter and was given a two-year contract. He will be paid off for the 1948 season. His annual salary was reported in the neighborhood of $25,000.

Muckerman and Ruel had a showdown meeting yesterday following reports that Ruel's tenure with the club was finished. The Browns finished last in the American league during the past season.

There was no announcement regarding Ruel's probable successor. Ruel, 51 years old, had been assistant to Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler before he joined the Browns.

Chisox To Take Action In Case

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—(INS)—The directors of the Chicago White Sox scheduled a meeting for today to discuss what action they would take on the suspension of General Manager Leslie O'Connor by Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler.

O'Connor, who was set down for refusing to pay a $500 fine for alleged violations of the rule prohibiting the signing of high school players, indicated yesterday, however, that the conference might not be held.

The suspended official told newsmen that he expected a statement to be issued by American League President Will Harridge. But the league office said later that no statement would be forthcoming.

Rickey To Talk With Durocher

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Secretary Harold Parrott of the Brooklyn Dodgers revealed today that President Branch Rickey will confer with Leo Durocher tomorrow regarding the former manager's future association with the club.

Durocher, having finished his year's suspension given him by Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler, has been hanging around New York for several days trying to find out whether he is going to get his old job back or whether Burt Shotton will continue as pilot of the National league champions.

POLLETT UNDER KNIFE
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Pitcher Howard Pollett of the St. Louis Cardinals is scheduled to undergo an operation today at St. John's Hospital for the removal of a spur from his elbow.

Sammy Adragna In Showdown Bout

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Sammy Adragna, the Carnegie welterweight mauler whose visions of fistic greatness may not be so far out of line as many think, gets his chance in a "make or break" battle next Monday night against Charley Fusari of New York in Pittsburgh's Duquesne Gardens.

Adragna has a somewhat spotty record, but Fusari's record shows but two losses in 54 bouts, and includes a string of 46 straight wins generously garnished with knock-outs.

Bob McDonnell, diminutive Villanova baseball and basketball star who joined the Phillies as batting practice pitcher upon graduation in June, roomed with lanky Schoolboy Rowe on road trips.

Woman Billiard Champ To Give Exhibition Here

Ruth McGinnis To Display Skill At Local Academy Thursday Evening

RUTH MCGINNIS

Pocket billiard fans of New Castle are in for an unusual treat on Thursday, November 6, when Miss Ruth McGinnis, women's world champion, will give a demonstration of her skill at the Wilkins Billiard Academy. This will be the first appearance here of the "lady cue wizard" in eight years.

For four years she was engaged in a defense plant while our country was at war.

She is currently touring the country—meeting all comers. No one is barred. Due to the lack of female competition Miss McGinnis will play the best local player available. She is known as the only girl in history to master the "Gentlemen's Game" and has a high run record of 128.

Promoter of Game
The woman's champion has been endeavoring for years to promote the game of pocket billiards among women of the country and she feels that by personal appearances at the better kind of clubs and billiard establishments scattered throughout the nation she will thereby introduce the sport to the ladies. After the exhibition a series of unusual trick shots will be shown. Game begins promptly at 7:30 p. m.

Ladies are cordially invited. This will be the first appearance in New Castle.

Hunters Warned Not To Bag Hens

In an announcement today game officials told Pennsylvania gunners that the supply of ringneck pheasants throughout the United States is in a more critical condition than it has been for many years due to intensified farming practices, moving season losses, adverse weather conditions during the breeding season, predators, and the toll of these popular game birds on the highways.

Officials entreated hunters not to jeopardize the future of their sport further by the careless shooting of hen pheasants. "Save the hens if you want future sport," warns the commission. "If you make a mistake acknowledge it promptly and save three-fourths of the fine."

The Game Commission has marked all pheasants raised from chicks produced on the state game farms this year by punching the web of the right foot between the two outer toes. The purpose, officials explain, is to determine the full benefit of its enlarged stocking program.

Gunners were asked to examine the birds they shoot carefully, and if any bear evidences of being toe punched to notify the local game protector or write directly to the Pennsylvania Game Commission at Harrisburg.

Blackhawk Fans Mourn As Trade Takes Hockey Ace

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—(INS)—The victory-less Chicago Blackhaws welcomed five new grade-A players today, but all over town the gallerites mourned the loss of high-scoring Max Bentley, sent to the Toronto Maple Leafs in hockey's biggest postwar player deal.

Bentley and rookie wing Cy Thomas were shipped to Toronto yesterday in exchange for wing Gaye Stewart, center and wing Bud Poille, center Gus Bodnar and defenseman Bob Goldham and Ernie Dickens.

PIRATE FARM TRAINING
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Ray Kennedy, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates farm system, announced today that plans have been completed for farm clubs in B. C. and D categories to train in Bartow, Fla., next spring.

Kennedy said Pirate farm clubs in advanced categories will train elsewhere. The Bucs themselves will train in Hollywood, Calif.

Jo Longman, Paris promoter, has offered Rocky Graziano, the world's middleweight champion, a $150,000 guarantee to meet Marcel Cerdan in a Paris bout.

Roger Stephens, halfback for the Cincinnati university gridlers, led the entire nation in 1946 in average yards gained from scrimmage.

Arena Basketball Card Announced

Famous Canton Cush-Its Will Play Series Of Nationally Known Teams Here

Stanley Shaw, owner of the Arena on Grove street, today announced the following big basketball attractions for the Arena floor for the month of November, December and January:

November—Oklahoma Indians vs. Canton Cush-Its.
December 3—New York Comedy Kings vs. Canton Cush-Its.
December 14—New York Renaissance vs. Canton Cush-Its.

January 14—Harlem Globe Trotters vs. Canton Cush-Its.

The Canton team has in its lineup such well known stars as big Marion Motley and Horace Gillom, now with the Cleveland Browns pro football team. The Cush-Its an all-negro team, played the K. P. Laskis here last winter and made a decided hit.

New Castle basketball lovers will see quite a few of the big name teams at the Arena this year, Shaw stated. "We intend to book the best in the country for New Castle," he announced.

Warren Series Has Been Tough; Big Game Friday

New Castle And Ohio School Have Each Won Six; Two Ended In Ties

One of the bitterest schoolboy grid rivalries in the district will be renewed at Taggart Field Friday night when New Castle again grapples with Warren, Ohio.

It is altogether fitting that these two colossi of the area should come down to this traditional meeting with their best records in years. New Castle has whipped nine foes, with only the Farrell deadlock marring their card, while the Presidents have bowled over seven opponents, losing to Canton McKinley, rated the outstanding team in Ohio.

Hard-Fought Series
The series began in 1915 with a 7-7 deadlock and was resumed in 1934—running ever since. During that time each school has won six while two of the encounters ended in stalemates, the other being in 1937—a scoreless affair.

Over the years the Hurricane has enjoyed the better of it in the point picture, amassing 142 to 105 for the Ohioans.

The gloomiest years were from 1941 to 1945, Warren coping four straight. The locals ended the victory famine last year, winning at Warren, 12-0.

Game Rated Toss-up
It is almost impossible to go one way or the other for a win prediction in this series. The Presidents have flashed great form in disposing of such teams as Cleveland Shaw (26-19), unbeaten at the time, and also Massillon, 20-13, an Ohio power whose reputation needs no embellishment here.

Although graduation took many of the 1946 performers, Coach "Heinie" Beck has fielded a powerful lineup, a tribute to his fine grid teaching.

New Castle with such injured aces as Ray Peluso, Lou Gilmore and Lou Zeigler rounding back into shape, will be at full strength for their biggest test of the season.

Undoubtedly one of the outstanding games of the year will unfold and the biggest crowd of the season is expected in the stands.

Fans Deplore Fact Penn State, Penn Don't Collide This Season

HIGGINS OF PENN STATE

Three more games each, and possibly both Penn and Penn State can lay claim to the eastern—perhaps even a national—football title.

But if both do finish out the season unbeaten, they'll leave the way open for a lot of hickering among the partisans of each as to just who is the champion of Pennsylvania.

The schedule-makers fixed it that way.

Penn State and Penn don't meet this season. Any possibility they may meet in a post-season game is about as remote as a Vishinsky-Marshall handshake.

But still they roll along their unbeaten ways, with the chances getting better with each succeeding week they'll wind up the season with spotless records and sit back to await bowl bids.

Penn State rolled over Colgate Saturday with the ease of a war tank, 46-0. Penn didn't have too much trouble pushing Princeton off its glory trail, 26-7.

More Game Remaining
Each has three more game remaining. Bob Higgins' Lions meet Temple, Navy and Pitt, all on foreign fields, in the next three weeks. Penn has Virginia, Army and Cornell, all at home.

That Army game sticks out like a sore thumb on Penn's march to national glory. But comparative scores, if one figures they mean anything at all, would give the Quakers a big edge over the Cadets. Penn beat Columbia, 34-14, and Columbia beat Army, 21-20.

Penn also beat Navy, 21-0, and just what Penn State does with the Sailors will give the hot stovers some things as a basis of comparison of strength between the Lions and Quakers after the season.

Navy shouldn't be too tough, though, for a team that's rolled up 263 points to 20 for its six opponents.

Colgate never got into the game with Penn State after the first 14 minutes of play Saturday. The Nittany Lions piled up more than 500 yards from scrimmage and passes, and scored in every period in their 46-0 rout.

Penn Has Tougher Time
Penn and Tony Minisi had it a bit rougher in their grudge fight, but didn't waste any time dispelling the nation Princeton again might repeat its 17-14 upset of last year. The Quakers scored 19 points in the first half while Princeton was getting seven, and then coasted down in the final period.

Pitt, the state's third "big time" operator, provided Minnesota with a good workout, and little more, as the Norsemen of Bernie Bierman took an easy, 29-0 victory. Lafayette turned in an upset by defeating Syracuse, 14-7, while Slippery Rock Teachers went down to their first defeat of the season, at the hands of Grove City, 20-6.

Carnegie Tech Partisans had something to cheer about even if the Tartans did lose, 21-13, to Washington & Jefferson. It was the first time in more than two years once-powerful Tech has scored two touchdowns in a game—and only the second and third touchdowns since the tally drought started almost two years ago.

New Castle Rifle Club Wins Match

In their first match of the league season, the New Castle Rifle club defeated Evans City, 1189 to 1175.

High scorers for New Castle Rifle club defeated Evans City, 1189 to 1175.

High scorers for New Castle were W. Thomas, 246; P. Carrigan, 240; J. Williams, 239; C. Johns, 232; J. Moore, 232. Total 1189.

Evans City: E. Shar Shanor, 240; J. Huffman, 238; P. Bish, 235; Mary Ann Beal, 231; A. Tuma, 231. Total—1175.

Other New Castle scores were: W. Boovers, 225; T. Roman, 224; C. Bruntton, 216; K. White, 204; C. Byler, 191.

The local club will go to Ellwood City for their next shoot.

This was disclosed today by supervisors of a $50,000 trust fund established by fight fadom to defray Jimmy's medical expenses in the Arizona sanitarium.

Webb Is Returning To Australia, May Recess Tokyo Trials

TOKYO, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Sir William Webb, president of the 11-nation Far East tribunal, told International News Service today he "may be leaving soon" to take a seat on Australia's high court "for a few weeks."

Another Australian official in Tokyo however denied a report that Webb is being recalled permanently from his key position as presiding judge in the protracted war crime trial of 25 former Japanese leaders.

When informed that Webb may return to Australia, George Blewett of Philadelphia, attorney for "Pearl Harbor Premier" Hideki Tojo, said the defense probably would demand a recess until Sir William returns.

Tojo is chief defendant in the war crimes trial.

Webb told this correspondent the only reason for his likely return to Australia was the "accumulation of business" before the supreme court of that country.

The Australian jurist said he knew of no single case important enough in itself specifically to warrant his return.

It is known that Herbert Evatt, Australian minister for external affairs, looks with disfavor on Webb's prolonged stay in Tokyo.

Preview Of 1948 Seen In Indiana

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Party leaders hailed today's Indiana election as a "preview of 1948" as some 700,000 Hoosier voters went to the polls.

At stake were the tenth district congressional seat, mayors and other city officials in 102 cities and clerk-treasurers and town boards in 432 towns.

The expected drizzly weather forecast a heavier farm vote in the tenth congressional election, but may curtail voting in some of the municipal and town elections.

The special congressional election in the tenth district was necessitated by the death of Congressman Raymond S. Springer, a Republican of Connersville, who defeated Frank C. Unger of Farmington, the Democratic nominee, 70,069 to 44,807 votes in 1946.

Most political observers believe that the tenth will remain a GOP district but by a considerably less percentage.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Duquesne University's grid squad resumed drills today for their clash Saturday at Forbes Field with the University of Maryland in Pittsburgh.

Only three halfbacks—Joe Koon, Charles Thomas and Walter Plutuk—were sidelined by injuries failed, to answer roll call. Joe Gottlieb and Walter Glamp were back in battle garb.

Rotary Hears Talk On Iran

Dr. Rolla E. Hoffman, Presbyterian Missionary, Speaks On Possibilities There

SAYS IRAN HAS RICH RESOURCES

Iran has tremendous future possibilities, Dr. Rolla E. Hoffman, Presbyterian medical missionary, who is supported by the First Presbyterian church here, told members of the New Castle Rotary Club at their noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Monday.

Dr. Hoffman, who is home on a year's furlough from his mission station in Iran, stated that there are around 15,000,000 inhabitants in Iran, but that the country is capable of supporting 75,000,000 people, if her resources are developed.

He stated that natural gas is plentiful, but that it contains hydrogen sulphide, which gives off a disagreeable odor when burned, hence it is not widely used. However, if the hydrogen sulphide were washed out of the gas, the inhabitants would have a cheap source of fuel, which is taxing other resources at the present time.

Some of Products
Some sugar is made from sugar beets, but there is a fertile river valley, where sugar cane could be grown with a little irrigation work, which would relieve the necessity of importing sugar, and would give her credits for other commodities, Dr. Hoffman stated.

Sheep, while raised extensively, do not have a good quality of wool, and hence the wool crop is not worth so much. With the introduction of a better breed, he stated that this could be increased. The country has too many goats, he stated, which crop the grass too closely and hence do a great amount of damage.

Better transportation is needed, along with modern refrigerating plants, and better storage for the grains which are raised, there being much spoilage. However, he stated, steps are being taken to remedy many of these conditions, and the outlook for the future of Iran is good.

The country needs a better educational system, which first must have schools for the training of teachers. Trade schools are also needed. With these improvements, he felt that Iran could be raised to a first class country.

Ministers Hear Talk On Leprosy

Plans Being Laid For Annual Thanksgiving Services In New Castle Churches

A most enlightening talk on leprosy was given Monday in the First Presbyterian church, North Jefferson street, during the regular assemblage of the New Castle Ministerial Association.

Introduced by Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, the speaker, Dr. R. A. Hoffman, medical missionary to Iran, told of the work of the American board of missions to the lepers of the Presbyterian denomination. The speaker described some of the work that is being done to cure leprosy or more commonly known as Hansen's disease.

The business session was in charge of Rev. James N. Rainey, president of the association. It was preceded by a devotional period in charge of Rev. Owen Shields, aided by Rev. H. L. Johnson and Mrs. Nettie Peacock.

Introduced to the ministers were Rev. George Myers of New Wilmington, presented by Rev. Shields; Elder Threats, presented by Rev. J. L. McFarland, and the representatives of the Mormon church in this city.

Rev. James Gaiser, pastor of the First Methodist church, spoke on the proposed Methodist survey in the city. The association approved the idea and will lend assistance in the effort when called upon to do so.

Ministers of the city asked to turn in their Community Chest reports before next Friday. It was also requested of churches in the city to ring all church bells from 10:59 to 11 a. m. on Tuesday, November 11, Armistice Day.

Thanksgiving Day service plans were discussed by the ministerial body. Announcement was made by Rev. J. L. Petrie that Thanksgiving services will be held in the Madison Avenue Christian church on Wednesday evening, November 26, the day before Thanksgiving. Rev. J. L. McFarland was named to assist Rev. Bennett, Rev. Irvine and Rev. Braun in planning the program for the uptown churches.

See Light Vote In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Republican leaders in traditionally-GOP Philadelphia today predicted a "smashing victory" in the Quaker City balloting for mayor and other municipal offices.

Democratic chieftains, however, still made victory claims for their mayoralty nominee, Richardson Dilworth.

The GOP candidate is Bernard Samuel, seeking re-election. Inclement weather was expected to hold the vote down, with a possible 675,000 ready to go to the polls. This does not approach the total registration of 1,003,464 in Philadelphia.

France Will Get Biggest Coal Load

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(INS)—The United States coal operating committee announced today that almost 40 per cent of the 3,500,000 tons of American coal to be exported in December will go to France.

The committee reported that France will receive 1,304,000 tons of the 2,305,000 tons of coal earmarked for western Europe. Italy will get 594,000 tons.

The Middle East is slated to receive 207,000 tons of coal in December. There are no allocations for England or Russia.
